

WinProp Seminars

Description and Pricing Information

Description

Seminars are recommended by AWE in order to provide an introduction in the scientific background of wave propagation as well as in the practical work with the WinProp software package. The typical content of a seminar is given in the following, but can be adapted to the customers needs:

- Introduction in theoretical background of wave propagation.
- Working with WinProp (GUI, projects, examples of customers)
- Discussion, question & answer

Either seminars are hosted by AWE in Boeblingen (Germany) or can also be held in the premises of the customer.
